About the course - The Ph.D. in Philosophy is a three-year full-time research program whereby students undertake a doctoral-level research project under the guidance of a supervisor. The Ph.D. is active at the Department of Humanities of the University of Naples "Federico II". Our Ph.D. offers students the opportunity to work and to develop their ideas in a stimulating and supportive community of students, faculty members, and visiting scholars.

Teaching & research - The program is organized into three curricula: Philosophy, Bioethics, and Philosophy of Interior Design. We offer an international research community with research strengths particularly in the following areas: History of Philosophy, Theoretical, Moral and Political Philosophy, History of Political Thought, Philosophy of Interior Design, Bioethics, Aesthetics.

Admission - The admission to the Ph.D. program is based on a competitive basis on the evaluation of academic curriculum, research projects, and interviews. Due to the Covid19 pandemic, interviews will be conducted online.

Grants - There are 6 positions, 5 of which are covered by grants. At least one of the grants is reserved for foreign students. The scholarship amounts to 15.343,28 Euros per year, including social welfare charges. Ph.D. students with a personal income exceeding 15.343,28 Euros (set aside the scholarship itself) cannot be the recipients of the grant. The amount of the scholarship is increased to a maximum extent of 50% for periods the Ph.D. student spends abroad for no more than 18 months, but this does not apply to periods spent in the students' own Country, or in the Country in which they have their residence.
